

Year 2 Reading

Read the text and then pick some questions to answer each day

House For Sale

Good news! A beautiful cottage in the Forbidden Woods has just been put up for sale with a tall, slanted roof, which is dripping with white icing. This house is perfect for hungry buyers who like to have their house and eat it! Colourful, sticky sweets decorate the front of the building and the chimney is made from a crumbling, chocolate wafer. The huge, tasty garden boasts delicious lollipop trees and a river of runny, flowing chocolate.

Please note: This house may melt on a sunny day so viewing in winter is recommended!

1. What does the word 'slanted' mean in this text?
2. What does the word 'buyers' mean in this text?
3. What does the word 'viewing' mean in this text?

4. Where is the cottage?
5. Who is the house perfect for?
6. What is the river made of?

7. Why might the house melt on a sunny day?
8. Why is the house perfect for hungry buyers?

9. Pick out two different words the author uses which means that 'something is nice to eat'.

- 10.

Number the house's features from 1 to 3 to show the order that they are mentioned in.

- _____ lollipop trees
- _____ tall, slanted roof
- _____ sticky sweets as decorations